

Ngan Tran

Ngan Tran is the Chief Technology Officer of AgaNola.

Ngan Tran has extensive experience in IT engineering. He started his career in 1998 as Electrical Designer (CAD) at Aeroplan Engineering AG in Zurich, Switzerland, designing and drawing airplane runway and tunnel lightings. In 2000 he joined Bakoplan AG in Zurich, Switzerland, as Project Engineer, designing and planning electrical networks.

From 2001 to 2007 he was responsible for the IT at Jefferies (Switzerland) Ltd. in Zurich, Switzerland, acting as intermediary between the business and IT groups in projects and developing new business systems.

He holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from the PHW Business School, Zurich, Switzerland, and a Bachelor in information technology from the TSU Technical School, Zurich, Switzerland.

Ngan Tran was born in 1978 and lives in Switzerland.